"The second quarter of 2016 was characterized by the significant reduction in BTB's debt rate, following the issuance of 6.6 million units providing net proceeds of $28.5 million. As at December 31 of last year, BTB posted a total debt ratio of 70.9%. The current issue allowed for the redemption on August 2, 2016, of all outstanding Series D Convertible Debentures, which reduced the total debt rate to 66.9%, our lowest since the conversion to IFRS in 2010. We intend to continue with our debt reduction over the coming quarters by disposing, in an orderly manner, of certain properties in the portfolio considered less profitable and applying the proceeds of these disposals to reduce current debt, or through accretive acquisitions.

We are also pleased to see the return to profitability of the same-property portfolio. In recent quarters, it had shown a negative performance. The efforts of management have allowed to post positive results at the end of the second quarter of 2016 and we are confident that they will continue along this positive line", declared Michel Léonard, President and Chief Executive Officer.
